Rogue Shooting Targets LLC

About our AR500 Steel Target Company

Rogue Shooting Targets is a steel shooting target company located in the Rogue Valley of Southern Oregon. Surrounded by mountains and close to the high desert of Eastern Oregon, it offers a lot of recreational activities to the residents and visitors. From hiking the Pacific Crest Trail or any of the other wilderness trails, hunting the elusive blacktail deer or majestic bull elk, fishing the high mountain lakes, or the Rogue River for salmon and steelhead. It also offers a great opportunity for long range shooting.

Rogue Shooting Targets was born out of necessity. Our team and friends are all devoted shooters and hunters. Whether it is pistol, cowboy action, long range, or even trap and skeet, we shoot it all. After shooting a wide variety of metal targets, only to ruin them and end up replacing them in a short period of time, it was time to build the best AR500 steel targets and target stands for long term use. We shoot just about every week giving our AR500 steel targets a good workout.

Steel Shooting Targets

Here at Rogue Shooting Targets LLC, we take pride in building the best laser cut AR500 steel shooting targets and steel target stands for rifle and pistol shooters. Rogue Shooting Targets has steel gong targets, square targets, steel target plates, and steel silhouette targets in thicknesses ranging from 3/8" to 1/2" and sizes from 4" to 24". These steel targets can be used as rifle targets or pistol targets.

Our AR500 steel targets, steel target stands, steel shooting targets, and holders are made right here in the Pacific Northwest, from domestic materials. All of our targets are laser cut from 100% domestic AR500 plate with certification available. We have a large inventory of our standard size plates and stands allowing for immediate shipment.

At Rogue Shooting Targets the price you see listed is the price you pay anywhere in the Continental USA, so there are never additional shipping charges on stock items. We also have the ability to laser cut AR500 targets in custom sizes or shapes from 3/8" to 2" in thickness. If it can be drawn, it can be cut out. Custom AR500 targets or other custom work usually ships in two weeks or less. All of the stands and holders we manufacture are designed for dependable use, ease of assembly, and ease of transportation.

Rogue Shooting Target Kits

Our most common AR500 steel targets and steel target stands put into kits at package pricing. A 3/8” x 10” AR500 steel gong target with our swinging stand for rifle shooters, a 3/8” x 10” AR500 round tension mount plate with our Heavy Duty Tension Stand for pistol or rifle shooters and the ½” x 15” AR500 gong with swinging stand for long range shooters.

Target Stands

Rogue Shooting Targets manufactures Heavy Duty target stands for steel targets, these stands are easy to use, easy to transport, made to last and have powder coated finish.

Swinging Gong Stand can be used with our AR500 steel gong targets up to 15" and our AR500 square steel targets up to 16".

Large Swinging Gong Stand can be used with our AR500 steel gong targets up to 20" and our 2/3 IDPA scale AR500 steel silhouette targets.

Heavy Duty Tension Stand is used with any of our steel targets that have .530" square hole (square plates, tension plates, silhouettes). You supply the wood 2x4 allowing you to determine the height you want it and if it gets shot and destroyed it is easily replaced. This stand is very popular with shooters at extreme long ranges to hold our 3/8"x24”x24” steel target.

Using AR500 Steel Shooting Targets Safely

- As with all shooting sports, it is important to follow firearms safety at all times while enjoying the sport.
- Bullet fragments can be cast towards shooter or spectators, it is advisable that shooter and spectators wear safety glasses, ear protection and appropriate clothing for protection.
- Hanging the target with the target face pointed slightly downward will help direct the bullet splatter down and reduce the risk of injury. See photo below.

Rogue Shooting Targets, LLC

836 Mason Way, Medford, OR 97501

541-840-3981

http://www.rogueshootingtargets.com